CITY ELECTION ON MONDAY

Great Interest Develops in Selection of Town Trustees, City Treasurer and Water Question

Sonoma voters are on the qui vive for the election Monday and it is predicted that a big vote will be brought out as four trustees, a city treasurer and the question of municipal ownership of water are to be voted upon. The candidates for trustees are the following:

Chas. Dal Poggetto, at present president of the Board and who has served the city two terms. Mayor Dal Poggetto is a big property owner and a business man who has resided here many years. He pledges himself to good streets of the oil macadam type and believes in fostering business enterprises of every kind.

Ernest Campbell, a young business man who has never held public office before but is interested in civic matters and Sonoma's welfare. His father, B. F. Campbell, is a large property owner,

George Breitenbach has repeatedly been honored by election to the office of city trustee and although he has been resting on his laurels during the last term, he served on the Board several terms previous. His record of economy is too well known to need comment and has won for him the sobriquet, "watch dog of the treasury."

Robert Abele is in the plumbing business and although comparatively a new comer is desirous of serving the city as a city father to the best of his ability.

Angelo Beretta is secretary of the Sonoma Ice & Brewing Co., a good citizen and an enterprising one. He has time to devote to the business interest of his home town and has been filling an unexpired term.

Chas. McDevitt, at present a city father, is pitted against Geo. Breitenbach as these two gentlemen are the only candidates competing for the short two year term. McDevitt has always aligned himself with progress and improvements and delares he relies on the spirit of the newer Sonoma to elect him.

There is a two cornered contest on for City Treasurer. Wm. F. Clewe, present incumbent, who has been a faithful public servant in this position of trust for several years and Louis H. Green, prominent business man and popular fraternal member who wants the honor.

City Clerk Gottenberg is a candidate to succeed himself and has no opposition.

The weather bids fair to be fine on Monday and the woman vote is expected to be a heavy one. Election officers are as follows: Inspectors, J. L. Modini and J. B. Small; Judges, L. Breitenbach anad A Pinelli; Clerks, Jep Valente and Ralph Hotz.

LESTER SMALL ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Justice of the Peace Lester Small successfully passed the examination last week in Santa Rosa to be admitted to the bar and can now practice in any court of the State of California with the exception of his own and the Federal courts, the latter also through special application. Justice Small has been a keen student of jurisprudence, a great reader of law and has had much practical experience in various phases of legal procedure.

He passed with the high percentage of 95 on the oral examination and also stood well in the written test, although the questions were extremely technical and considered very difficult by old members of the fraternity.

Attorney Small is a nephew of Attorney R. A. Poppe and is not only a bright and concientious young man but is also very popular among his associates.

Among those who took the examination with him to enter upon the practice of law was Victor Zampatti, a young Italian who formerly worked in the quarries here and who later went to Eureka and entered a law office where he has been faithfully preparing for his chosen profession. He also passed a most successful examinatino and will practice in Humboldt Co.

"Pop" Hibbard was over from Yountville the last week end and says he will return permantly in the Fall.

Mrs. Chris Seaver of San Francisco has been visiting at the Z. Lane home.

An operetta for the benefit of the Red Cross is in preparation by the High School students.

Patriotic Thrills Mark Sonoma's Great War Rally

Saturday's Demonstration Will Go Down In History as Great Civic Event. Speakers Sound Call To Duty. Community Council Organized. Sonoma Valley Will Do Its Share.

Saturday's war rally started out with intense interest of virile patriotism and ended with a thrill shared in by every man, woman and child in the community.

The rally speakers arrived as scheduled on the morning train and were met at the depot by leading citizens in patriotically decorated automobiles. The day was a perfect one of sunshine and beauty and seemed to emphasize by contrast the grim shadow of war and danger brought home to us in the magnificent and vivid accounts of the situation as recited by the patriots sent by the State and National Councils of Defense to make us realize that we must not bask in sunshine with this dread world war yet to be won.

The speakers were Dr. Fred Vining Fisher, F. L. Belgrano of San Francisco, ex-Lt. Carter of the First Canadian Pioneers and Mrs. F. T. Robson of the Womans Committee of the State Council of Defense.

The stirring music of the fine band sent down by the State Home to furnish music for the day was being heard in patriotic numbers in front af the Don Theatre when the speakers arrived and two hundred children had gathered in the theatre to see the wonderful views of their beloved country and to hear Dr. Fisher in his patriotic talk to the school children of this community. Hon. R. A. Poppe presided. The theatre was packed to capacity and while the audience was held spell bound by the fine war address and inspiring pictures, another audience assembled at the Grammar school auditorium where ex-Lt. Carter, permanently disabled sldier who had fought in the trenches with the Canadian forces, made a short preface to the tale of horrors he later recited and where F. L. Belgrano, Italian orator, was introduced by Mayor Chas. Dal Poggetto.

Lt. Carter gave a brief history of the part he played in the war from the time he enlisted in 1915 with the First Canadian Pioneers until his return a short time ago. He is one of three survivors of the seventeen valiant young Canadians who had answered the call of their country and hastened tothe front upon the urgent appeal "Hurry" sent out by Lloyd George. Carter was at Ypres, the Somme and other engagements now famous in history and declared that he felt it his duty to tell of his knowledge of conditions that the whole hearted support of this country might be given in defense of our civilization which has been in the balance through the perversion of German kulture. He declared that we all know what we are fighting for but his message was to make us realize what we are fighting against.

F. N. Belgrano, president of the Banco Populare Fugazi and one of San Francisco's 4 minute men who has been for many weeks addressing factory girls and workers in different languages and has done wonderful work in the enlightenment of our foreign speaking peoples of San Francisco on the war,, was presented to Sonoma's audience by Mayor Dal Poggetto.

Mr. Belgrano gripped his hearers almost instantly as he set forth his appeal to their patriotism and urged to give everything of thought, pocket, brain, heart and soul for salvation of their dear ones gone to war and the liberty of their homes menaced by the dastardly Kaiserism with which we are at war. He wanted all to know of remorse lest we wait until too late for our supreme effort to stamp out the devil incarnate which is seeking to destroy the world. He brought home to his hearers their littleness in the aid thy could give as compared with the boys gone to the battlefields of France to give up their lives if need be to extripate the monster which threatens us.

Ringing applause and congratulations followed the great opening talks of the day, after which the big crowds assembled on our streets began to surge down to the Womans Clubhouse for the Red Cross lunch scheduled for 12:30 o'clock.

The Red Cross Lunch

Fully two hundred people were seated in the spacious clubhouse and the speakers table was arranged upon the stage of the auditorium The national colors were displayed everywhere and little flags combined with lovely flowers made a pretty decorative feature at the tables arou nd which the representative democracy of Sonoma Valley gathered. Although characterized as a Hoover lunch because of a limited menu, the contributors had been most generous and the guests were delighted with liberal helpings and the splendid service. The ladies who solicited for the lunch were Mesdames Emparan, Volquardsen, Erazmus, Akers, T. H. Baines and F. T. Duhring. Other ladies assisted in the setting of the tables and in the serving. As a result of their splendid efforts $60 was cleared for the Red Cross.

F. T. Duhring acted as toastmaster for the occasion and first introduced Dr. Fisher who was greeted by loud applause.

He complimented Sonoma on its fine display of interest and said he had come to crystallize opinion and mobolize democracy. He declared that war talk was almost a seeming obtrusion on a day so fair and in a valley so apparently peace secure but he sounded a warning as his talk progressed and pointed out that here on this coast there was the greatest menace, that here in California concrete bases had been built on which to place enemy guns so the secret service men had discovered.

He then presented Mrs. Robson of Berkeley, representing Mrs. Moody of the State Council of Defense. Mrs. Robson pointed out that the war had created for women the greatest opportunity of the age—opportunity for true service. She told of her trip through the Southern states where men and women are cooperating in magnificent effort for their country. She told of the Food, Fuel and Finance problems and the Save, Service and Sacrifice slogans of women everywhere. She said that American women were well organized and that they were seeking to help the foreign born, etc., upon the duties of citizenship while at the same time absorbing much good from their many fine traits. Child welfare and race welfare were the subjects refered to in the great movements initiated by women in this country. The Food question was refered to as of course primarly one largely in the hands of women and the cooperation of all was urged. She spoke of womans place in the industrial and business channels of the country and voiced the sentiment of equal pay for equal service with no effort to replace men workers until real neccessity arises.

The Red Cross and the Junior Red Cross work of American women, and the great opportunity this service offered was brought home to the intent listeners who followed Mrs. Robson's fine frank talk intently and accorded her prolonged applause at the close of her fine discourse.

Mr. Belgrano was next introduced and told of his visit to Sonoma 40 years ago as a guest of the Duhring family. In his noonday talk this brilliant, passionate speaker seemed to reach the very lengths of his oratory and to vibrate the heart chords of his audience. Although each time he spoke his fervid appeal arose to greater magnificence this speech was one of his strongest with exception of his scholarly address in the Italian language made later at the plaza.

Mr. Belgrano spoke of Italy's brave stand in the war and how unshaken she was despite the German propoganda which sought like gas poison to kill the spirit of Italy's soldiers by spreading lies about their families starving and dying at home but the stamina of old Rome rose above it all and they fought on performing unheard of feats of heroism. He related the tale of the Piave river where the Germans were swept back and drowned like rats because, he ironically declared, Italy was in dire need of fertilizer. He declared the people of our allies in this their adopted country were diamonds in the rough which needed only contact with our splendid American institutions to bring them out, to make them shine by their own light and prove their real worth.

Lt. Carter followed with a strong appeal in behalf of the Red Cross which he declared had never begun to have the credit it deserved. He said from his experience he could well speak and that it seemed to him after being once wounded and brought to a hospital that an angel stood before him and such she proved to be but one of earth and she wore the insignia of the Red Cross.

He made an appeal for bandages in preference to knitted garments for he said bandages were essential and in his day the soldier boys had to tear up their underclothing to supply sufficient "I have received the benefits of the Red Cross and ask you to contribute and contribute, never refuse their appeal, for God's sake," and with this heart stirring appeal Carter closed his excellent talk.

Dr. Fisher followed with a masterly address in which he ran the whole gamut of war problems and sounded a deep note of warning at the sinster plots already promulgated by the Kaiser and his hirelings even at our very doors.

The gulf between worker and employer must be bridged declared the speaker. They must be partners to make this war a true victory of democracy. If this cooperation is not effected and we are not a united people the world must either wear the collar of the Hun or the Bolsheiviki. We must build up a true and strong democracy begining in small communities and letting the ripples spread out to the great sea of humanity. We must see the world relationship and realize that no one is greater than the other, the greatest now, our boys in the trenches. "Let us prove," said Dr. Fisher, "that democracy can be as strong and powerful as autocracy."

He warned against criticism and insidious propaganda. The great drive of the present struggle was refered to and the assurance given that Haig would not only hold the line but roll'em back.

The world will not be enslaved, declared Dr. Fisher, and if neccessary we must break through and free Germany itself giving even to our enemy the benificence of democracy. Close the ranks and unite in every community was his parting words to win this greatest of wars.

The audience united in singing America and left the Clubhouse with patriotic demonstration such as Sonoma has never before seen.

At the Plaza

Attorney Frank Sprague of the Council of Defense presided at the open air meeting in the plaza at 2 p. m. and Prof. Schieck's band rendered many fine selections between the speeches given before one of the largest crowds of the day. Sprague gave a flowery address pertinent to the occasion and sounded a warning to traitors and slackers.

Dr. Fisher followed with the history of events leading up to the war and proved conclusively the premeditation of the whole dastardly plot. He refered to these as great hard days with civilization in the balance and warned the country of its dangers, not only from traitors but from good people ignorant of their real duty or lending an ear to insidious propagandists. Indifference itself, declared the speaker, was an ally of Kaiserism.

Mr. Belgrano then spoke addressing many of his countrymen in the Italian language. It was a magnificent address.

Lt. Carter made his greatest talk of the day, a talk which was plain spoken and revolting in detail proving this soldier's assertion that the enemy has sunken to a state no longer human and that the beastiality and cruelty must be exterminated or the world will not be safe. He told of periences on the battle field and exhibited weapons used by the enemy.

Night Rally at Union Hall

Patriotism had reached a high water mark by night fall and the crowd packed Union Hall to capacity to listen to more speaking and to see the fine colored views of America and also pictures of our marines in war maneuvers.

A rare treat was the unexpected presence of Attorney Joe Berry of Santa Rosa, a gifted son of Sonoma County, flowery orator and splendid type of patriot. He summarized in a masterly manner the war situation and declared that America has the deepest regard and consideration for those of foreign birth who are loyal to the United States but the deepest disgust for those who came here, have prospered and shared our opportunities only to stab us in the back or become tools of traitors.

Mr. Belgrano's war cry of California, our grizzly bear, created quite a furore as he gave it in English and Italian.

Lt. Carter gave graphic pictures of the hardships to be endured in the trenches. He made further appeal for aid in behalf of the Red Cross and also the tobacco fund for he said smoking relieved the tension of battle and really saved lives. As to the morale and morals of our own and our allies army, he said we could be assured they were above reproach.

Selections by the band which generously stayed to contribute more excellent music. A song, "Somewhere in France is the Lily," by Miss Antoinette Froment, the popular soloist, community singing under the direction of J. F. Prestwood and Miss Emilie Poppe, a talk by Mrs Robson and Chairman R. P. Hill of the new Community Council were the other features of this never to be forgotten and prophetic night.

Organization of Community Council

The Community Council was launched with a fine talk by Dr. Fisher who outlined the utility of it and the great possibilities of doing neccessary war work because of local organization. Judge Seawell of the County Defense League also addressed the representative men and women present and urged united action to crush the enemy and win the war.

After necessary preliminaries the following men and women were chosen to represent their several organizations and groups:

R. P. Hill, Chairman; R. E. Perkins, Secretary; Mayor Chas. Dal Poggetto, City of Sonoma; J. F. Prestwood, the Schools; Rev. T. P. Moran. the Churches; L. H. Green, Fraternal Orders; Wm. Clewe, Business Men; Dr. A. M. Thomson, Professional Men; James Tate, Farmers; A. Froment, Foreign Born Citizens; Mrs. Duhring, the Red Cross. The Community Council was aptly refered to by one of the speakers as "a laboratory of democracy."

Chairman Hill and Mr. R. E. Perkins were delegated to attend a meeting in San Francisco Thursday to confer with other leaders in war work.

DRAKE EXPECTS TO FIGHT SOON

Sonoma Soldier Writes of Thrills of Life "Over There."

Arthur Drake has written of the thrills he is feeling in the war zone and declares that the sound of shells and artillery and the terrors of air raids no longer are a novelty in the section where he is. Although he has not been in any active engagements as yet, he says that it looks as though he would be busy before long. He declares that although he is no longer startled by the shell fire which makes him feel as though he was in a continual thunder storm, it is a little disconcerting to wonder whether some shell is going to get you next or what it is going to do.

Arthur has been to Paris recently and declares that the French capital is beginning to show the effects of the air raids particularly in spots.

Drake has finished his course of training in the anti-air craft school and is now studying French and otherwise keeping busy. He declares with all the reputation of the old world that Sonoma is the original paradise only we do not appreciate it.

He has had a series of troublesome colds and a cough, but is otherwise well and sends regards to his many Sonoma friends. Not a package or a Sonoma paper has ever reached him yet although many have been sent and the only San Francisco papers he has seen are always a month old.

WM. F. CLEWE, CANDIDATE FOR CITY TREASURER

The attention of our readers is called to the card of Wm. F. Clewe, candidate for city treasurer at the election Monday. Mr. Clewe is the present incumbent and has filled the position in an able and concientious manner. Not only has his record been commended by the City Trustees but the expert accountant of the city has certified to all his accounts and found them entirely correct.

As a candidate for reelection Mr. Clewe wishes to call the attention of our tax payers to the fact that he is the first city treasurer of Sonoma who has ever collected interest from the banks for city funds deposited with them. This interest has saved the city practically $150 per year.

Clewe is the head of a pioneer merchandise firm and a good business man.

SUCCESS OF PUBLIC OWNERSHIP TOLD

Municipal Water Works Pays Cloverdale and Healdsburg Big

Our sister cities, Cloverdale and Healdsburg, sent representatives of their municipal water works to Sonoma Thursday night to tell our people on the eve of the election that public ownership of water has been a great success.

The city clerk of Cloverdale addressed a meeting at the Grammar school and told of Cloverdale's better service and prosperity since purchasing their own plant twelve years ago. The plant has earned $19,876 profit besides giving fine service and fire protection from the outset. The city clerk of Cloverdale declared with the high pressure system once installed consumers would laugh at the present supply and all take the city owned water and its big pressure for garden and other use. Cloverdale's original water rate before the city acquired the plant was $1.50 per month minimum and 30 cents per thousand meter rate. It is now $1 minimum and 15 cents per thousand. Nine million gallons of water was used in 1917 by the city which had free use of it for all public benefits, street sprinkling, sewers, public schools and 50 fire hydrants. "From Cloverdale's experience," said Mr. Sedgerly, "there is no argument against municipal ownership."

Superintendent Conners of Cloverdale who was in charge of the plant there before and since the city owned it backed up the first speaker's argument and the facts favoring the purchase. He told of the kickers there and their ultimate conversion to municipal ownership.

Mr. R. C. Nelson, Healdsburg city Engineer, told of the unqualified success of that city's municipal water plant. It has paid for itself and been practically rebuilt out of earnings. It has paved the streets, made possible a big reserve fund, etc. Healdsburg owns both light and water plant. As a result the city trustees can afford $100 per month for band concerts, has bought $1000 thrift stamps, $1000 of the first Liberty Bond issue and $2000 of the second Liberty Loan.

Trustees Chas McDevitt and Angelo Beretta were on the platform with the speakers. McDevitt made a telling point that knockers against Sonoma acquiring the high pressure fire protective system were invariably in the insurance business.

The meeting was not largely attended which was unfortunate as the speakers from Cloverdale and Healdsburg were most convincing. They declared Sonoma could not afford to not own its own water plant It is reported that an offer has already been made by a San Francisco firm for Sonoma's bonds if voted Monday.

Sam Haven has applied for letters of administration on the estate of his wife, Maud Agler Haven. The estate consists of Sonoma realty valued at $2500. The Haven children are at the ranch near Modesto with their father and grandparents.

Dr. Lawson will be in Sonoma at the Union Hotel on Monday. April 8.

SONOMA DOCTOR MAY BE CHOSEN

Dr. A. M. Thomson Said to be Choice For Superintendent at State Home

Dr. A. M. Thomson, one of Sonoma Valley's leading physicians is said to be slated for the position of Superintendent of the State Home at Eldridge. A better selection could not be made for during his residence here, Dr. Thomson has proved himself an honored member of the profession. He is not only qualified for the superintendency by experience, but by temperment for his quiet sympathetic attitude coupled with executive ability makes him particularly fitted for such a post.

Dr. Thomson came here first to take a position at the institution under Superintendent A. E. Osborne about 20 years ago and later engaged in general practice here. He is about 48 years of age and as president of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies has been a most progressive citizen. His wife is the granddaughter of the late Gen. M. G. Vallejo and he has a family of three children.

While not a politician, Dr. Thomson is said to have strong backing for the position and Sonoma Valley endorses him unequivocally.

TWO MEN HELD AS SLACKERS

M. Wilkes and Wm. Gallagher were taken to the county jail this week pending investigation into the allegation that they are slackers having failed to respond to the draft call and questionnires. Both are former residents of the valley. Wilkes is said to be an Austrian.

NARROW ESCAPE IN ACCIDENT

A bad accident is reported in the vicinity of the springs when O. Wilkenson of El Verano in turning out to avoid a big car traveling at a high rate of speed was pinned under his own car which went into the ditch.

Bobby Rowe and a rescue party went to the aid of Wilkerson who was extricated from beneath the overturned machine. He escaped with slight injuries.

COMPILE HISTORY OF OLD SONOMA

Something About Its Political History from 1835 Up to the Present Time

(From the Index-Tribune of February 29, 1896)

In September, 1860, there appeared in Sonoma, A. A. Green, a San Francisco attorney, who at a meeting of citizens called at the old Union Hotel told the people that Sonoma was entitled to full four leagues of land; that the land west of Sonoma Creek as far as the tops of the hills rightly belonged to and was part of the Pueblo.

This created quite an excitement and at the next meeting of the City Council it was resolved to dismiss Judge D. O. Shattuck as attorney for the city in the land case and engage A. A. Green and Judge McCabe instead. From the time that an appeal was taken from the deision of the Land Commissioners to the United States District Court there were two hostile camps in Sonoma which on several occasions engaged in open brawls.

While this suit was pending in the United States District Court the Board of Councilmen of Sonoma were informed by the Clerk of the Court that their attorney was neglecting the case. It was even suspected that he had sold out to the opposite party. Mr. Green was promptly discharged and J. D. Creigh was appointed as attorney of record in the case. This occured in March 1861, and in order to raise the sinews of war the City Council sold the hilly land west of the Cemetery in different lots.

The following year there came a great surprise to the City Council. It was like a thunderclap from a clear sky. The opposition headed by Gen. Vallejo and his attorney, Geo. L. Wratten, had engineered a bill through the Legislature, unbeknown to the City Council, whereby the charter of the City of Sonoma was repealed. This gave satisfaction to a majority of the people of Sonoma, inasmuch as there was now no plaintiff in the land case and the settlers on the land west of Sonoma Creek, who had bought there land in good faith and had made improvements thereon, would not be further disturbed. Even if Sonoma had gained this additional land and sold the same, the money would have been foolishly squandered in unnecessary lawsuits and in other unbusiness-like undertakings. For instance, when there happened to be a few hundred dollars in the City's Treasury the City Council would loan out this money to an applicant upon giving his promisory note with two per cent interest per month. In most instances this would be the last seen of the money. When the old City Council was legislated out of office it left nothing behind in the shape of public improvements. The streets of the city were in the same condition as nature had made them, in fact there was nothing to show what had been done with the money received from the sale of lots and lands or gathered from taxes collected , except an endebtedness of twelve hundred dollars.

By that act of Legislature, approved April 26th, 1862, disincorporating the City of Sonoma, it was provided that three Trustees should be elected to carry out contracts entered into by the former City Council. to pay off and liquidate the indebtedness, to declare which of the city streets should remain public highways and county roads and to sell those streets not so needed. The Legislature considered that residents of Sonoma would be better qualified to select the streets to be declared county roads than the Board of Supervisors of Sonoma County, whose duty it was, and is, to lay out county roads, etc. The Trustees elected were D. O. Shattuck, Col. John Walton and Dennis Beahan. They performed the duty faithfully without compensation; except expenses necessarily incurred . They also dismissed the appeal from the decision of the United States District Court to the United States Supreme Court already taken by the former City Council.

The Trustees above named declared and ordered that all streets and parts of streets at the time inclosed were not necesary for county roads and should be sold and quit-claim deeds be given to the purchasers, the owners of adjoing lots having the preference. Although the provision in the Act of Legislature was not strict law, the property holders acquiesed in the declaration and order of the Board of Trustees, and although the declaration amounted only to an abandonment of certain streets the people generally approved of the order, as otherwise the money necessary for the payment of the ex-city's indebtedness would have to be raised by direct taxation, and thereby saved the salary of an Assessor and Collector.

The Trustees having finished the labor of their trust turned all books and papers over to the proper authority to receive them on November 23rd, 1864. About the same time the United States District Court rendered its final decree confirming the decision of the Land Commissioners and declaring the exterior boundaries of the Pueblo Grant to be as follows: In the west Sonoma and Agua Caliente Creeks; in the east the Aroyo Seco; in the south a line from the Tranas in Sonoma Creek to the high water mark in the Schell Creek and in the north a line extending from the apex of a prominent hill lying north from the N. W. corner of lot 544, to the house on the Buena Vista ranch in an easterly directioin, and by the shortest way from said hill to the Agua Caliente Creek in an easterly direction.This northern boundry line so defined by the United States District Court caused a great deal of annoyance and delay in making the Pueblo survey in later years. There are three prominent hills north of Sonoma, the Vallejo hill, Battery hill and the Jones hill. It was always understood that Battery hill, being the most prominent of the three hills and nearest to the town, was one of the land-marks, and it was also the intention of the District Court to make it so. The hill is called Battery hill from the fact that General Vellejo had two old cannons placed there for the protection of the town. However, the Court was misled by the map of the Pueblo filed in the Court as an exhibit. The map was a copy of the O'Farrell map made by John A. Brewster, who was at one time Surveyor General of California, and lithographed in New York. Brewster made the mistake of sketching the hills north of Sonoma from memory and had placed Battery hill, instead of north from the N. W. corner of lot 307, about six hundred yards further east. Such a line does neither strike Battery hill, Jones hill or any other prominent hill.

LETTER CONFIRMS TALES OF HORRORS

Sonoma Boy Writes of What He Has Seen of Enemy Work With Own Eyes

The following letter from a former well known Sonoma Valley boy written to his folks here from the war zone confirms all the tales of horror told by Lt. Carter Saturday. It's author is not given for obvious reasons.

Somewhere in France,
March 5, 1918.

Dear——

I am still at the same place and going good, there is not a great deal of news that I can write you but will try my hand. I have a job as chief meat cutter, it is a good job and I like it fine. I have some fine fellows for pals so am happy and contented. Several of them are Knights, so we take a little run up town to church every few nights.

I understand that there are rumors going around in the states about the sammies all being drunk over here. Well you can just figure it is German propaganda, because I am at a big base and can honestly say the boys are a credit to the flag we represent, also that we are bare footed, that's another lie. Also that we are disheartened, dont you believe it, the boys are all happy and "rearing to go". Also that we are starving, well nine out of ten in our company alone have all put on weight. I am getting all I can eat, and it is good food too. We had a little Belgian boy who was captured by the Germans and seeing is believing, they split his tongue with a bayonet, castrated him and the way his back was slashed and cut with a bayonet was beyond human comprehension. They killed his father and what they did to his mother and sister before executing them I am ashamed to write. That is only one case in many and the feeling among us is that we are determined that, if we get the chance, we will fix the Germans so that they will never be able to abuse our mothers, sisters, wives and children. So don't be discouraged by any dishearting reports because we are all here for a big job and all want to have a finger in the pie. Any such trash is the work of a German machine or else some dub in our own ranks who hasn't the grit to stand up and be a man, such a dub is not worthy of the name of man.

Troops are coming right along and each day looks more like business. Don't think that the Germans at home are the class we are fighting. These over here are nearer to being brutes and my opinion of them is that the only good (Boche) German, is a dead one. I got a letter from —— —— and she told me where —— was and the news in general.

We had snow for three days last week but it melted as fast as it fell. I did some shopping today and it was as good as a circus but with my limited supply of French and their flow of English, I managed to make the purchases. Well dear folks I will close with best wishes to all at home I remain.

Your loving ——

CANDIDATES IN TOWN

Among the candidates in town Saturday were Phil Varner and O. C. "Doc" Staton of Sebastopol. Mr. Staton is a candidate for School Superintendent and is well known in the Analy district. He is a teacher in Sebastopol and was accompanied here on his trip by Harry Lutgens of the Times who introduced him to many Sonoma voters

NATIVES OF CALIF. HONOR SONS GONE TO WAR

The Native Sons and Daughters entertained over 50 members and invited guests Monday evening. A service flag for 12 young men gone to war was unfurled. It is a handsome emblem with the stars and the gold fringe. There was an eloquent talk by J. F. Prestwood at the dedication.

The inspiring evening closed with dancing and refreshments. All present enjoyed the hospitality of Sonoma's flourishing Parlors.

EASTER SERVICES

There were appropriate and beautiful Easter services in all our churches. St. Francis Church was beautifully decorated in lilies. There was special music and an eloquent sermon by Rev. T. P. Moran.

The special feature of the Congregational Church was a fine augumented choir which sang at the morning service, "Praise Ye The Father" the Gounod anthem and Shelly's, "Hush, Hush My Soul" with solo parts by M. H. Rowell and Miss E. Poppe. Other singers were Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, Mr. Lydiard, Miss M. Erickson and Mrs. Burlingame. The Masons attended the evening service and a quartet from the Home sang.

At the M. E. Church there was a sermon on the Resurrection and the war and also a program of unusual interest under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Waltz.

The wedding of Miss Carola Hess and B. Allsop was a society event at Trinity church in San Francisco Tuesday evening. The bride who has often visited here is a cousin of Mrs. Ernest Campbell who was unable to attend on account of measles in the family.

Mrs. C. Lowell is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Paine and family, in the state of Washington.

.P Bidou, the well known baker had a narrow escape one day this week from injury when his automobile ran off the road near Vineburg and went through a fence. Something went wrong with the steering gear.

Hazen Cowan, for a long time in the hospital at Camp Lewis is now at a New Jersey training camp.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sholden and little daughter, Eugenie Marie, who was born here in Sonoma, returned to San Rafael this week where they make their home. Mrs. Sholden has been here with her mother Mrs. J. B. Small for several months.

Mrs. J. F. Magee and daughter of Oakland were up on a visit over Easter Sunday.

Miss Frances Treanor of San Francisco was an Easter Sunday visitor at the home of Mrs. Watts at El Verano.

Fred Hansen of the Sonoma Valley Hatchery has received an order for 10,000 baby chicks from a Utah customer.

Think just a moment of what it has meant to the thousands of young men in their prime, with the great opportunity of business and social life just opening before them, to cast aside their ambitions and aspirations. Then think what it would mean if these young men were not willing, anxious to make that sacrifice; even to make the supreme sacrifice. They place their lives upon the altar of democracy. These, perhaps your own son or brother, is among them, are doing their best; are offering their all for you. What are you doing for them? It is not enough that you do your bit—you must do your utmost.

DO YOU WANT TO GO OVER THERE?

Red-blooded men, above draft age who desire to go to England, Italy or France and engage in Y. M. C. A. war work; men who are willing to make sacrifices in order to do their bit in this world war, can be sent overseas immediately, according to information received today from the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C A., 519 First National Bank Building, San Francisco.

No pacifists, political socialist opposed to war, nor men of German or Austrian parentage can be sent. Men of strong moral character, with business experience; men who can direct atheletics, or recreational activities, men who can drive or repair automobiles are those who are most urgently needed.

It is not a job for molly coddles. The work is dangerous, tedious and requires men of strong physique. Men who can undergo fourteen hours steady grind a day, who can put up with inconveniences, who can remain cheerful under stress and excitement are needed. It is a man's work. It is to back up the million and a half American sooldiers fighting for democracy. No man is too big for the job.

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma did, on the 6th, day of February, 1918, by a vote of two-thirds of the members of said board adopt a resolution determining that public interest and necessity demanded the acquisition, construction and completion of a system of waterworks for said city, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said municipality.

NOW THEREFORE, the Board of Trustees of the city of Sonoma, do ordain as follows:

Section 1.—A special election is hereby called and ordered to be held in the City of Sonoma, State of California, on Monday, April, 8th, 1918, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city a proposition to incur a bonded debt by said city for the acquisition, construction and completion of a certain municipal improvement for said city, to-wit; a system of waterworks, which said election shall be consolidated with the general municipal election to be held in said city on that day.

Such bonds shall be of the form and character known as "Serials" and at least one-fortieth part of the principal sum of said indebtedness will be paid each and every year in gold coin of the United States until all of said bonds shall be paid.

PRESTWOOD VISITS PETALUMA AND IS WARMLY GREETED

J. F. Prestwood, Sonoma's candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Schools, visited Petaluma Thursday last and made a most favorable impression on new acquaintances while renewing many old friendships among the educators and residents of that city. The following splendid send off was given him by the Petaluma Argus of March 29th:

"Jesse F. Prestwood, principal of the Sonoma grammar schools, and president of the County Board of Education, arrived here Thursday afternoon and remained here to attend the dedication of the Masonic Temple. While here he met Supt. of Schools E. B. Dykes, his former colleague on the Board of Education and Mr. Dykes piloted him about the city. They were welcome visitors at the Argus Office.

"Prof. Prestwood, who is one of the best known and most successful educators of Sonoma county, has announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent of schools and he will base his contest on a most excellent platform, which will later appear in these columns. He has made the education of young people a life study and he has some plans which are sure to bear fruit.

"Rural school consolidation is one of his measures and he is heart and soul in sympathy with any movement that will advance the opportunities for learning of the pupils.

"The Sonoma schools have grown under his care and a splendid new grammar school building has been constructed. His work has been eminently successful and he is very popular in the valley. He has taught in the Sonoma schools as principal for the past nine years, his first schol being at Guerneville and by the way, he was born and raised at that place, and is a loyal native of the county. He has eighteen years' experience as a teacher and has been a member of the County Board of Education for the past six years.

"Mr. Prestwood is making a splendid campaign and he is sure to be heard from when the election takes place. He plans to visit here frequently between now and the election date.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF BELOVED WOMAN

F. T. Duhring, Robt. Hill, Wm. Clewe and Otto Wagner attended the funeral of Mrs. George C. Young in Petaluma on Tuesday. Mrs. Young was the wife of a former Sonoma resident, Mr. Young having at one time owned a fine ranch more recently known as the Rochat place.

It was at the hospitable Duhring home in the early days that Mr. Young met the winsome Dora Leiffen who was often a house guest there. Whenever Miss Leiffen came to Sonoma Mr. Young called and eventually won the estimable young woman for his wife. They were married and lived most happily together most of their married life having been spent at Petaluma where Mr. Young was engaged in the real estate business. One son a splendid young enlisted man in the Navy survives the esteemed pioneer mother.

Miss Adele Chauvet has taken a position as telephone operator at the State Home.

Mrs. Nellie Tietjen and husband of New York are moving to California. Mrs. Tietjen was formerly Miss Nellie Gordenker and married the son of a New York banker some years ago.
